Constipation

THERE IS NOTHING equal to Chamberlain's Tablets for constipation. When the proper dose is taken their action is so agreeable and so natural that you do not realize that it is the effect of a medicine. These tablets possess tonic properties that aid in establishing a natural and regular action of the bowels. Chamberlain's Tablets have cured many cases of chronic constipation.

But He Meant in Size.
"You mustn't ask the ladies how old they are," said the mother jokingly to her little boy, who had been questioning her mother's guests as to their age. The little boy was silent for a moment, then he turned to his mother and pointing to a young girl in the room: "Can I ask her how old she is? She don't look like a lady."

Did Not Know the Rutabagas.
She was not acquainted with the Swedish turnip, known as rutabaga, sold by the street vendors in the Northwest. When she answered the doorbell and found a stalwart Swede repeating with rising inflection "Rutabaga?" she replied sweetly: "No, sir; Lindhart. I am Mrs. Lindhart, and I do not know the family."

EASY to RUN

A turn of the wick makes the flame of a New Perfection high or low, as you choose. The flame stays "set." Gives an even heat that's clean and odorless. Your dealer will show you the reversible glass reservoir—a New Perfection feature.

The New Perfection does its best when you use Rayolight Oil.

not be complete—were the handiwork of Henry's brush.

The large blacksmith shop was for a number of years in charge of James Murray, who came to the Burg from Canada. Frank Shoup, Sr., was also in this blacksmith shop for several years as a horse-shoer. The building occupied by the Hollenbeck wagon shop was several years ago moved away.

Peter Cranker and Sons conducted a blacksmith shop in a brick building on Second street between Louisiana avenue and Walnut street, as far back as my memory runs. In the late sixties they erected a large two-story frame building on the lot adjoining to be used as a wagon-building and paint shop, and for a number of years did a good business until the advent of the machine-made carriages and wagons finally compelled them to abandon the field to their more formidable opponents. But for a great many years nearly every wagon used in this vicinity had on its rear axle the inscription: "P. Cranker & Sons, Makers," on "W. H. Hollenbeck, Maker, Perryburg, Ohio."

Yes, those were the good old days, also the good wagons. John Cranker was for a number of years in charge of the wagon-building shop of this firm, and much of the output was his work. For several years there was a Mr. Fairbanks connected with the Cranker shop as a wagon builder. Perhaps the one piece of work that Mr. Fairbanks was more proud of than any other while he was connected with the Cranker firm, was the platform spring dray that he built for Jim Webb, and passed by him to his successor, Jim Fleming. For a number of years previous to this Jim Webb's dray consisted of an ordinary one-horse wagon. Then he concluded he wanted something nice, same as those seen "in the city," so P. Cranker & Sons were called on to do the furnishing, and they in turn commissioned Mr. Fairbanks to build the "something nice." Of course, way back in the early sixties A. L. Fowler and Jack Webb had real drays of the style then generally in use—two-wheeled affairs, with a large platform-like deck, which sat on the axle on a hinge-like contrivance so that the rear end of the platform could be let down to the ground in order to roll on barrels or boxes when loading. But they were back numbers compared to Jim Webb's "new dray."

Peter Cranker himself had charge of the blacksmith shop, and with him for many years were his sons, Wesley and Frank Cranker. Jim Jones also was with this firm for several years, and I had the pleasure of meeting him at the "Home-Coming" of three years ago. Frank Cranker had the humorous habit of placing real warm pieces of iron on the floor where some of us barefoot boys could easily step on them, then caution us to beware of "red-hot iron."

Also he persisted in calling me a "blue-blooded yankee." And just think of it, me a "Yankee," with my name.

Will H. Cranker had charge of the paint shop for many years, and was an expert in his line, and the carriages and buggies built by P. Cranker & Sons were noted for their fine finish. Johnnie Campbell was also connected with the paint shop. Campbell was also somewhat of a comedian, especially in black-face comedy, and was one of the star members of the old-time Perryburg Minstrel Company. Campbell and Jim Fleming put on a black-face skit entitled "The Motionless Drill," at the first big campfire given by Wolford Post, G. A. R. in the Town Hall in the summer of 1880, as a burlesque on the "Silent Drill" of the Toledo Cadets, the one-time crack military company of Toledo, who had come up from the city and given a performance of their famous silent drill at the campfire for the benefit of the Post. The "Motionless Drill" sure was a howling success as a laugh-producer, and no doubt will be remembered by many who witnessed it. Cranker's brick blacksmith shop, the wagon shop, also Cook's big livery barn, which adjoined them, have long since been torn down to make way for several handsome residences.

BOY BADLY INJURED

Paul Wirty, aged eleven years, living near Miami was crippled for life on Friday morning last by falling under a freight train on the Clover Leaf railroad.

He was hanging on the ears for a ride and fell under the wheels which crushed his left leg so that amputation was necessary. The leg was amputated above the knee. The great toe of the right foot was also crushed necessitating amputation.

Drs. Rhonchouse of Maumee gave first aid and brought him to the Rhinefrank hospital where the operation was performed.

The little fellow is doing as well as could be expected and will recover from the injuries.

CLUB DISSOLVED

The Perryburg Swimming Club held a stockholders meeting on Friday night last and decided to go out of business. The club's bath house was sold and all debts of the club paid, leaving a nice balance of about $35 which was ordered to be given to the Red Cross society.

HOUSEHOLD CARES.

Tax the Women of Perryburg the Same as Elsewhere.

Hard to attend to household duties. With a constantly aching back. A woman should not have a bad back.

And she seldom would if the kidneys were well.

Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by thousands.

Have been used in kidney trouble over 50 years.

Read what this Perryburg woman says:

Mrs. W. P. Scott, West Sixth St., says: "I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they surely cured me of backache and other kidney trouble suffering. It was five years ago that I had such a dull ache across the small of my back, and it annoyed me dreadfully. I could not lift a scuttle of coal or anything else for sharp pains would catch me in my back. After leaning over a while at work I could hardly straighten. My kidneys didn't act right either. After the doctor failed to help me I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I am glad I did for they cured me of the attack. I have had very little kidney trouble since and a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills have taken care of that."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Scott uses. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Look Her Down a Peg.

One of the anecdotes in Gamaliel Bradford's "Portraits of Women" describes an encounter between George Ticknor, the Boston publisher, and Lady Holland. "I understand, Mr. Ticknor," said the haughty ruler of London society, "that New England was originally settled by convicts." "I was not aware of that," Ticknor replied promptly, "but I know that some of the Vassalls, your ancestors, were early settlers in Massachusetts."

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions. Send for testimonials, free.
